First Graduation Ceremony of Mount St. Mary's College (1929)

SAN GIMIGNANO 1947

An Explanation of the Designs by the Architect,
Mark Daniels

The site of the new Mount Saint Mary's College crowns the top of a spur of the Santa Monica Mountains which juts out into the broad valley of Boehme Canyon. The area comprises substantially thirty-six acres. The scheme of buildings is a series of groups surrounding patios, quadrangles and terraces, succeeding one another up the slope of the hill and culminating in the Chapel terrace, flanked on the east and west by the Residence Hall and Faculty Building.

Tradition has all but dictated the adoption of a so-called Spanish type of architecture in which an effort has been made to introduce a combination of Gothic and Renaissance such as may be seen in the University of Salamanca and the Cathedral at Burgos. From their windows, lecture rooms, sleeping rooms and auditorium command a sweeping view over the sea, city and surrounding hills. It would be difficult to find a more alluring and at the same time inspiring view from any eminence within a reasonable distance of a great center of population.

The quadrangles and patios are connected by a grand staircase, over which arched passageways afford intercommunication between buildings. This type of "partie" provides semi-enclosed cloisters and study patios, a feature to be found in few educational institutions. Soil and climatic conditions adapted to the growth and cultivation of an extremely extended list of plant material insure the feasibility of verdant covering and colorful gardens.

Situated as it is, within easy access to Loyola University, contiguous to the site of the new Occidental College, within a few minutes drive from the University of California at Los Angeles to the east, and an even shorter distance from the great California Botanic Garden to the west, with fertile soil, temperate climate, incomparable outlook and the inspired and lofty motives back of the institution, it is no stretch of the imagination to picture this college in the future taking its place as one of the outstanding achievements in the United States.

MOUNT ST. MARY'S BREAKS GROUND 1929

On Sunday, June 17, 1929, several thousand friends of Mount St. Mary's gathered to witness the formal groundbreaking and first commencement exercises of the college. The ceremonies were held on the new hilltop campus which replaced St. Mary's Academy as the official college campus.

Bishop John J. Cantwell officiated during the ceremony and addressed the ten graduates.

Sister Ignatia

During this golden year, Mount St. Mary's gives special thanks and recognition to one who has contributed fifty years of caring and working for the Mount.

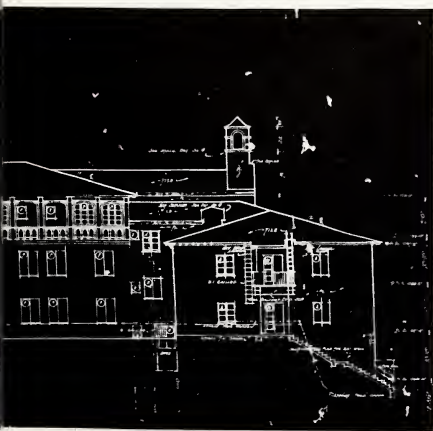

As a Founder of the College, a teacher, and an artist, Sister Ignatia has enriched the Mount in many ways.

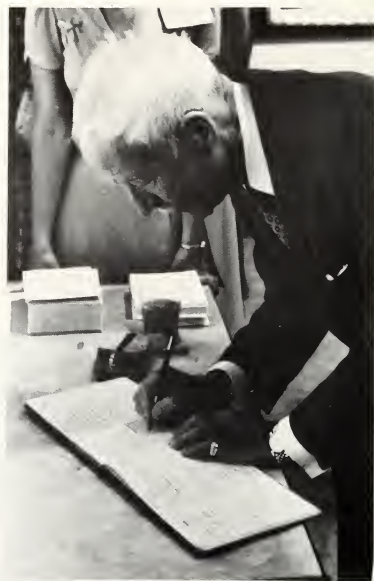

Sister entered the Carondelet community in 1908 and taught at St. Mary's Academy before joining the original college faculty in 1925. She helped establish the Mount on its hill top campus when the school moved from the St. Mary's Academy location. In a Tidings interview in 1968, Sister recalled those early days when Brady Hall was the only building on campus:

"We had the timber for a new building, but then the depression came with a bang and that ended that. We lived in three or four rooms. Students scrimped on clothes. They couldn't get jobs, even after graduation. They were kind to each other—and to us."

Many new buildings were to follow after the depression years, among them, the Marian Hall of Fine Arts which Sister Ignatia helped design. The Bel Air fire of 1961 destroyed the building along with many of Sister's works.

Sister served as chairman of the Art Department for thirty years and retired from active teaching in 1962. Although retired, Sister Ignatia expresses a very active love and concern for the Mount of 1975.

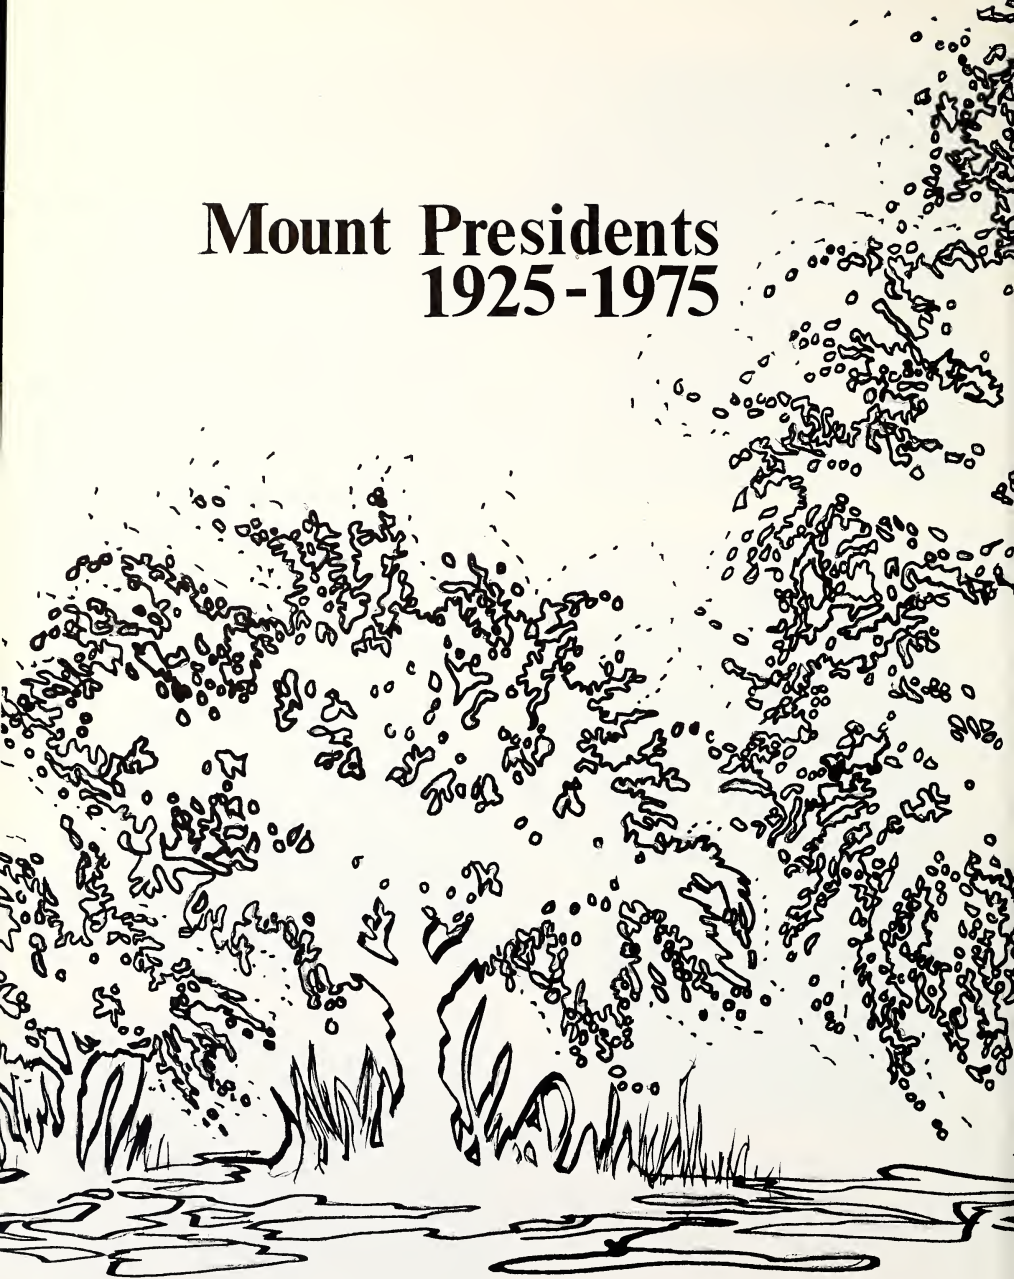

*THE JOSE' DRUDIS-BIADA ART HALL
DEDICATED SEPTEMBER 22, 1974*

The new Jose'Drudis-Biada Hall represents the fulfillment of a dream once realized and then destroyed by fire. The new building also stands as concrete evidence of the spirit of growth at the Mount.

President

As a former student, faculty member, and residence director, and now, as the President of the Mount, Sister Cecilia Louise understands Mount St. Mary's from many points of view.

Having earned a B.S. in Chemistry from the Mount, Sister continued her studies at St. Louis University where, in 1958, she received her Ph.D. in Chemistry. Since then, she has participated in several scientific conferences and research projects.

Sister was appointed to the Chemistry faculty in 1957 and served as chairman of the Department of Physical Sciences from 1959 to 1964. Before becoming President of the College in 1967, Sister served as Director of Residence and Dean of Faculty.

To the graduates:

Anniversaries are milestones in time. In our human way, we use them to measure progress toward significant goals. This year, the Mount celebrates a golden anniversary. In the course of the celebration, all of us who are part of the College, can pause at this milestone and attempt to measure how far the Mount has come—how well it has traveled through its first fifty years.

While attempting this assessment—while asking the questions, “how far?” and “how well?” in reference to the progress of the Mount as institution, we will inevitably discover an interesting fact. Genuine institutional progress is always the result of dedication on the part of individuals. So when we assess the Mount’s achievements, we are really assessing the quality of dedication exhibited by the Mount’s people—all of them—fifty years’ worth.

As the graduates of 1975, you are a special part of that fifty years’ worth of Mount people. With the others, you have contributed to the achievement record we are examining in this anniversary year—“how far?”—“how well?.” But your unique importance lies in the fact that, as the most recent graduates, you are the living and only answer we and the Mount can give to the most essential question of all—“What for?.” You are what the Mount is for!

The story of the Mount, 1925-1975, is a story of good times and bad times, of trial by fire of more than one kind. The story of your own lives will most probably reflect this same rhythm of alternating circumstances. When and if, in spite of all that intervenes, you reach your own fiftieth year, the ways in which you have lived will give us valid answers to the questions we are asking now—Mount St. Mary’s College—How far?—How well?

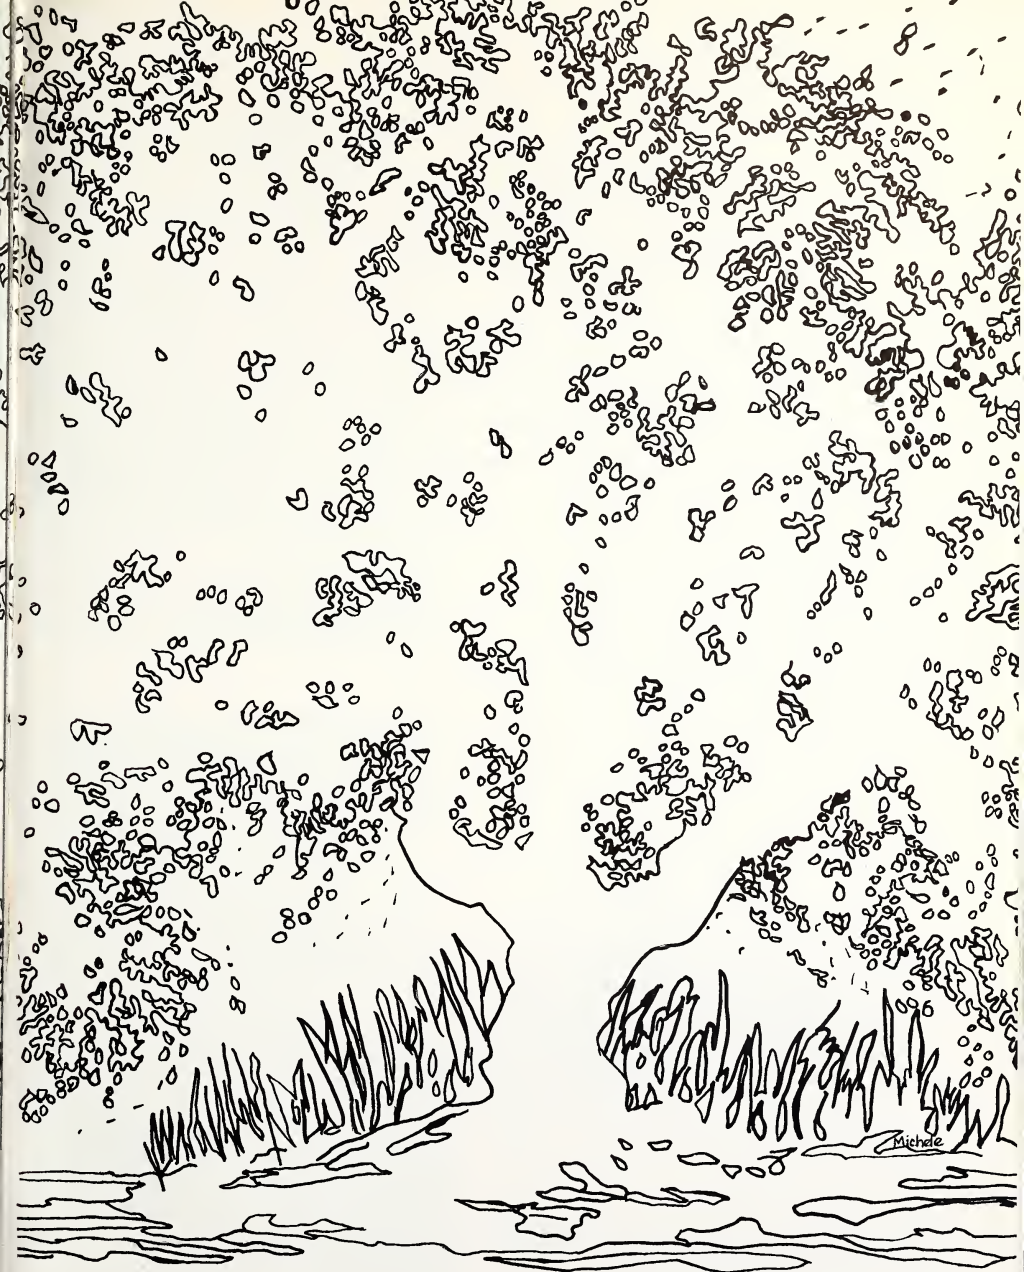

During 1975 Mount St. Mary's College commemorates the Fiftieth Anniversary of a building project. Half a century ago, the Founders of the Mount designed and laid groundwork for a college that could never stop growing. The architects knew that the realization of this unique structure would depend upon the skills of its builders. For fifty years, thousands of talented workers have labored to create this special college. To each of these builders—to every student, teacher, alumna, and friend of the Mount---

CHAPEL-MT-ST-MARYS-COLLEGE

MC HARRIS &
LAWRENCE CITY
ARCHITECTS

was founded in October, 1925 by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet, at the request of Bishop John J. Cantwell.

The young college received 25 women into the freshman class that September. On October, 1925, the State formally accepted the Charter of the College. Classes were conducted at St. Mary's Academy in Los Angeles before a permanent campus was established.

In 1927, the college purchased 36 acres in the Brentwood Hills. The groundbreaking and first commencement exercise of the college were conducted on the new hilltop site on June 16, 1929.

The students and faculty did not officially move into the new campus until April of 1931, after the completion of Brady Hall.

In 1974, Brady Hall is no longer the lone building on the hilltop. Since 1931, the Chalon Campus has grown considerably, the latest addition being the beautiful José Drudis Biada Art Building.

FOUNDER'S DAY CELEBRATION OF OCTOBER 17, 1925

'61 FIRE SCARS CAMPUS

The Tidings—November 18, 1961

Mount St. Mary's College suffered nearly a million dollars damage in the devastating Bel-Air fire last Monday.

Two buildings were entirely destroyed, and the upper floor of one House of Studies wing was gutted by the blaze.

The college narrowly escaped complete destruction.

The students were evacuated at 11 a.m. and most of the faculty by noon. The last of the Sisters left an hour later. By that time, about 1 p.m., the hilltop campus was ablaze.

Firemen also were preparing to evacuate the Mount because, after the swimming pool was emptied, they had no more water. The heavy use of water at lower levels, in fighting the fire and wetting down roofs, drained the hilltop mains.

The college was saved by the providential arrival of a number of large water trucks from a nearby San Diego Freeway construction project. The trucks shuttled up and down the hill until the fire was controlled.

The tankers were dispatched by Gordon Bowden, project manager for the Guy F. Atkinson Co., and guided up the flame-lined roads by Gordon Campbell, a non-Catholic neighbor of Mount St. Mary's.

Nancy Stewart Manning, class of '58, Administrative Assistant to the Dean for Student Development died January 18, 1975. A loving wife, devoted mother, loyal alumna, kind counselor and faithful friend, Nancy lived well, laughed often, and loved much. With her genuine concern and deep faith she looked for the best in others and gave the best she had. Happy and enthusiastic in working for and in her alma mater, she left us better than she found us.

Isbony Mansion circa 1900

Eight Chester Place, Los Angeles

DOHENY CAMPUS

An island of quiet elegance and natural beauty within the urban chaos of Los Angeles, the Doheny Campus retains the natural serenity protected and developed by its originators a century ago.

When Nathan Vail, a wealthy clipper ship owner from New Jersey, settled in Los Angeles in 1876, he purchased a 15 to 20 acre site in the area which now comprises the Mount's Doheny Campus. Captivated by the pepper tree orchards which graced his land, he named the estate "Los Pimentos." Vail and his wife lived at "Los Pimentos" until 1885 when they sold the acreage to Judge Charles Silent.

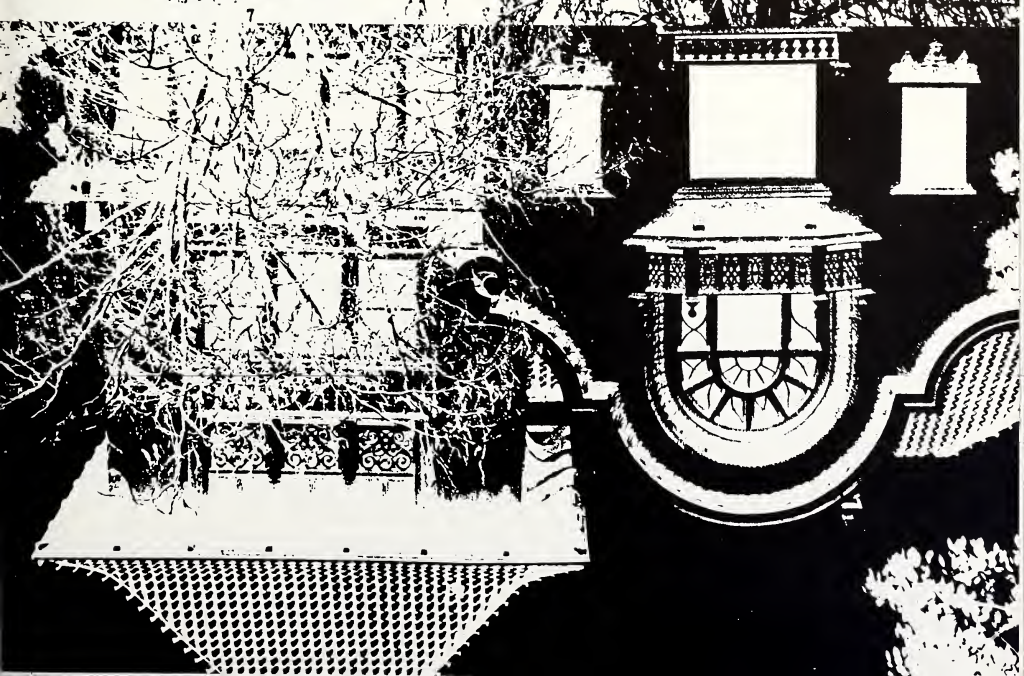

A zealous civic leader and promoter of urban beautification in Los Angeles, Judge Silent developed the Vail estate into an "exclusive residential park." He named it "Chester Place" in memory of his son, Chester, who had died as a young man.

As Los Angeles left its sleepy pueblo days behind, becoming an important urban center in southern California, it attracted numerous land developers and oil men to establish businesses and build homes within its limits.

Architects and designers from the East appeared on the scene to design homes to match the extravagant tastes of their owners.

The homes built on Chester Place typify this lavish architecture, particularly the Doheny Mansion. Constructed originally for Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Posey, who purchased Judge Silent's property in 1899, this Gothic-Renaissance mansion stands today as a landmark of beauty and history. It is the best preserved and grandest home remaining on the Doheny Campus.

Purchased by Edward and Estelle Doheny in 1908, the mansion was carefully decorated and maintained in the succeeding years. For the nearly sixty years in which Estelle Doheny lived and worked in the grand house, the home was a center for the generous, philanthropic activities of Mrs. Doheny. Honored as a Papal Countess in 1947, and a "Times Woman of the Year" in 1954, Estelle Doheny gave much to both the city and archdiocese of Los Angeles. Her generosity indirectly enabled the Mount to acquire Doheny since she willed her estate to the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, before her death in 1958.

Mount St. Mary's College seal, designed by Baker's Heraldic office of London, is in the form of a circular shield. The name of the College appears around the edge of the shield, and 1925 the date of its founding, is in the center. The shield itself has four divisions. An open book at the bottom center bears the college motto—Deus Illuminatio Mea—God My Light. At the upper center a lily surrounded by thorns symbolizes the Immaculate Conception of Mary. The fleur-de-lis of France at the upper right represents the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet, established at Le Puy in France in 1650. At the upper left three angel wings with a rose signify the city of Los Angeles. The seal thus symbolizes Mount St. Mary's College founded in the City of Our Lady Queen of the Angels by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet under the patronage of Mary, model of womanhood.
